A: You pass only $username and $password in this line. You also need to specify the db name. Try this: $servername = "localhost"; $username = "root"; $password = ""; $dbname = "info"; $conn = mysqli_connect($servername, $username, $password, $dbname); Real Estate Let's Build! According to the news article at US News & World Report[1], "Seeds and Soil Make Most Housing Difference", "The annual What Kind of Home report tracks the design and resale value of several home types and ranks the most popular choices according to their overall value. This year, some of the most desirable housing is found in tiny houses or accessory dwellings. Tiny homes, more commonly known as cottages, go for an average of $119,000, substantially less than larger houses on the same lot. Smaller houses also have an appeal to the college student crowd." Here is the complete description of the Windows Package Manager: I'm building a program to assist people on how to manage their computer. I am looking for a few people that will be interested in helping me with the development and testing, mainly as testers, their will be a few who will actually do work for me which will be with bug fixing and anything else that will be useful. To start this would be in a easy one man project that will quickly make its way to a few extra hands. I'm looking for an easy one or two man projects that I can move up to if I do my research on the right people for the job. You will need to be able to be here consistently because we will be working on it pretty much from 9 - 6 - 5. Here is what you need to know about the development: - C#.NET - SQL Server - C++ (visual studio) - Interop for SQL Server - Windows Installer XML I also have some pretty good examples of how the program works but they will not be hosted here. You will need to be able to follow instructions and have a good idea of what you are doing. On the flip side if you know how to do this programming wise and you would like to work on a small scale project then this is a good thing for you. The project is definitely a WIP so no promises are being made but I'm pretty open about how things will go. If you would like to help out in any way email me at improwrocks@gmail.com Thank you for your time. We need a function to reverse the list of items from a (3 column) txt file containing +- 2 numbers and the corresponding item. This txt file will be generated automatically and will be regularly updated. The output file needs to be in a a dbf file. That's a good day! I have a requirement for a writer who can type between 300 and 1,200 words per hour on average, accurately, and from experience. I need an article of 150-200 words / copy each. I have a few sites in mind in the US and the UK and hope to be able to find the best one for me. I need it done this week. Thanks. I have an alpha testing application I am trying to publish on IOS and android, I need it to be hosted on app stores for Apple and b7e8fdf5c8
